

Coming Back for More

Vs. 1

Aiming high but landing low, it's hard to let these feelings go
But I'll try
I struggle down this narrow street, blue turns black under my feet
And I don't know why

Lightning it flashes across the sky
Thundering echoes, of what's inside

Chorus

Let it rain I'll be ready, let the sky begin to pour
When rising waters get too deep, You're my shelter from the storm
I am safe inside Your open arms, with You I am reborn
I won't give up, I promise to hold on
I'll keep coming back for more

Vs. 2

Taking shots on every side, the pain I feel is hard to hide
But I'll try
Every mile is longer still, slowly crawling up this hill
I sigh

Cold winds are blowing, I'll say a prayer
With my heart knowing, that yes You are there

Bridge

Now I'm drowning in a crashing wave
But I will not get swept away, I'll be okay, I know
Shifting tides may come, but You will save the day

Alternate Chorus

So rain I'll be ready, and sky begin to pour
When rising waters get too deep, He's my shelter from the storm
I am safe inside His open arms, In Him I am reborn
I won't give up, I promise to hold on
