

Move Mountains Again

Vs. 1

My body wants to quit, but I keep pressing on
My mind is weak but my heart's getting stronger
I know You're bigger than my deepest fear inside
You help me see far beyond these eyes

Take my hand and pull me through
I reach for You

Chorus

When my will gives out, when my walls cave in
You keep calling me back, and calling me friend
When my defenses fall, and I reach my end
You carry me over, and move mountains again (and again)

Vs. 2

My self gets in the way, my efforts let me down
I give it all to You, tired, yet somehow
I know Your love can heal, my deepest hurt inside
You help me rise far above this life

Take my hand and pull me through
I reach for you

Bridge

There's none to big, and none to small
You're God over everything, Lord of all
